FIFTEEN CENTS

Surprise Birthday Party for 'Guess Who?'

Monday night's Antioch village board meeting began promptly at 8 o'clock, as scheduled.

The first item on the agenda was a birthday party.

The 200th birthday of the United States.

Mayor Robert C. Wilton presided over the meeting in his Abraham Lincoln costume. Trustee William H. Seemann wore his George Washington attire and trustee Diane (Willie) Kasik also was attired circa 1776.

MEMBERS OF the Antioch Bicentennial Commission attended, the lights were dimmed, sparklers went off and the entire group enjoyed coffee and Uncle Sam's birthday cake.

It was a nice way to start the New Year.

Mayor Wilton complimented the bicentennial commission on the many appropriate events it staged here in the last six months.

William E. Brook, commission chairman, said he agreed "it's going to be a big year. It seems every few days someone comes up with a new idea. We have a great group of people working on the commission, we're having a lot of fun, and we're going to get a lot accomplished in 1976."

IN OTHER business, Ken Wierschem, chairman of the planning commission, said his group has completed a slide presentation on the proposed new comprehensive plan for the village.

It will be reviewed at Thursday's 7:30 p.m. plan commission meeting and then will be shown to the village trustees at 6:45 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 14. It is also available to groups around the community.

Village Clerk Marilyn Sterbenz reported on building permits taken out during 1975. They included permits for the construction of 32 single family residences, one duplex, 11 private garages and one new commercial building, Dr. John Boarini's offices.

MRS. STERBENZ also called attention to an important new block which appears on 1975 U.S. Individual income tax returns.

For the purpose of revenue sharing, the census bureau needs residence information on each individual; for example, the city, town or village they live in, and the county and state.

Mrs. Sterbenz said the village hall is available to help taxpayers complete the revenue sharing question properly. The information is important so that revenue sharing data is accurate. Therefore, it is important to each municipality.

"Many people live in areas with several levels of local government," Mrs. Sterbenz said. "Therefore, determining a specific place of residence can be difficult and confusing."

TRUSTEE J. IRVING Walsh said he has letters from the Lake County health department citing numerous violations in four local restaurants. He said the restaurants could lose their licenses unless the violations are corrected by a certain deadline. Walsh said he would not name the restaurants until he learned if the violations had been corrected.

It was announced that village committee meetings will be held next Monday night and that the new park commission will meet at 8 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 14.

WINTER DRAPED a mantle of snow over Antioch last week, creating lacy and lovely scenes such as this, on a lane leading south from Rt. 173 to Lake Marie. Our many Antioch readers now living in Florida will be homesick when they see this photo, but they probably enjoyed missing this week's temperatures, with wind-chill factors far below zero.

Burglars, Vandals Hit 4 Spots Here

Burglars were at work in Antioch last weekend, breaking into St. Peter's school and also Park Auto, in the Dodge of Antioch building at 345 Park Ave.

CLC Program To Feature Lumber, Erzen

The Women's Auxiliary to the Lake County Medical Society will hold a luncheon meeting next Tuesday at 12 noon in the College of Lake County board room on the Grayslake campus.

F. James Lumber, Antioch attorney and a charter member of the college's board of trustees, and Dr. Richard Erzen, CLC president, are the featured speakers.

College counselor Nancy LeCraw will describe CLC programs especially for women.

Apparently nothing was taken at St. Peter's. Police said the culprit apparently climbed a cement block wall to reach the second floor of the school building, then broke a window to gain entry.

Once inside, the burglar went to the school office and broke another window to enter that area. A storage room door also was forced open. Two ceiling tiles were damaged but nothing appeared to be missing.

Ronald A. Miske, owner of Park Auto, said a burglar entered through a window, stole a small calculator valued at $20 and removed about $33 from soda pop machines. A stereo tape player valued at $200 was taken from a car.

Vandals continued to damage windows in Antioch, too.

William Mauch, manager of Hahn Jewelers, reported that a small hole was made in the store's front window, apparently by a rock or hammer. It will cost about $300 to replace the window, which measures about 4 by 5 feet.

The owner of Lakeside Restaurant told police he saw a car drive past slowly one night last week, and then an object was either shot or thrown, putting a small hole into a large, 10 by 10 foot window.

Death Is Subject Of CLC Course

The College of Lake County is again offering the course titled "The Many Faces of Death." The course is offered on Wednesday evenings, at 7:15 p.m. for 16 weeks beginning Jan. 21.

Some of the topics are grief and bereavement, interacting with the dying person, attitudes and awareness, faith and hope, funeral customs, suicide, euthanasia, and talking to children about death.

Guest speakers will include an insurance agent, attorney and a clergy person. The course will include a field trip to a funeral home.

Persons can register during CLC's on-campus registration, Jan. 12-15.

For further information call Frank Nickels, counselor, at 223-6601, extension 400 or 407.

THE LARGEST exclusive boat show ever held in Wisconsin, the Milwaukee Boat Show, is scheduled at State Fair Park, West Allis, Jan. 23 - Feb. 1.

The park's three largest exhibit buildings will house the show.

Twenty-eight marine dealers in the Milwaukee area are sponsoring the show. Only new 1976 merchandise is displayed, from yachts 36 feet in length, down to sailing prams and dinghies.

Graduate School Courses at CLC

Several four-year colleges are offering upper division and graduate courses at the College of Lake County during the 1976 spring semester.

Barat College, Carthage College, National College of Education, and Northern Illinois University will provide 23 classes with full-college credits.

Persons interested in learning more about the classes should contact Dr. James Becker, CLC dean of community services, at 223-6601, extension 350.

College of Lake County's on-campus registration for the 1976 spring semester is Jan. 12-15. Classes start Friday, Jan. 16.

The Town Crier

Antioch stores report that women and youngsters, just before Christmas, purchased a record amount of Men's cologne and shaving lotion.

Which proves, once again, that everybody loves Dad but they don't like the way he smells.

A FELLOW over on Lake Street says the thing he likes best about January is the absence of mosquitoes.

The only redeeming factors about January and February is that in two months they'll be over with.

March has some virtues, except for the big snowfall we get every year, late in March, after spring has officially arrived.

Golfer Ben Hogan always said, "Anyone who lives in the North is either crazy or a victim of circumstance."

We only have three seasons here: July, August and Winter.

IT'S NATIONAL "Pun Week" and, to properly observe the occasion, we'll repeat the worst pun we ever heard.

One person says: "How did you get the flu?"

The other answers: "I just opened the window, and in-flew-enza."

The moral of this story is that the chances are, before winter is over, you, or someone you know, will have the flu.

Several types of influenza virus are expected in Illinois this winter, including Port Chalmers, Scotland and Hong Kong strains.

But they don't scare us as much as something we read in a new book: "Appointment in Dallas: the final solution to the assassination of JFK."

The book by police expert Hugh McDonald, who says he tracked down and interviewed the professional assassin who actually killed President Kennedy in 1963 while Lee Harvey Oswald was playing the part of the patsy.

You'll have to read the book to get the entire story, but McDonald claims he also learned that the Russians have been experimenting by transmitting flu germs in the jet stream which passes from east (Russia) to west (the United States).

Small missiles, he says, are introduced into the jet stream and carried by it to the U.S. Once here, these missiles are timed to release their nasty cargo over any given section of our country.

He says the Soviets have now gone beyond the simple nuisance of a flu bug and are experimenting with lethal germs.

Cheery thought, isn't it?

BARRY GOLDWATER

The Lesson of The Big Apple

By SEN. BARRY GOLDWATER

In a negative sort of way, the American people are indebted to New York City.

For the nation's largest city has shown us that governments can indeed go bankrupt and default on their obligations in this land of plenty.

Never before have the American people been treated to the spectacle of municipal writhing under the lash of indebtedness it could not meet. In the past months we have seen a huge governmental structure tell its people that its promises—although legally binding—were virtually worthless. In other words, people who in all good faith purchased New York City bonds in the belief that they were as safe as the city government found their faith had been misplaced. All of this happened because the city government budgeted more money over long periods than it could ever collect in taxes.

ACTUALLY THE Big Apple became a classic example of how phony the promises of liberal politicians can become.

It provided proof that when conservatives complain about government insolvency, they are not merely playing the part of gloom-and-doom prophets but rather attempting to preach sanity in our government spending.

IT WILL be recalled that for many years the liberals have denigrated all suggestions that the federal government live within its means, even as individual Americans are forced to do. In fact, the proponents of the so-called "new economics" in the Kennedy Administration actually suggested that working for a balanced federal budget would endanger the national economy. Rather, they suggested that the proper gauge should be a measurement of public spending as a percentage of the gross national product. That has a nice ring to it—but no basis in sound economic theory.

What we get down to is this: When New York City's fiscal extravagance catches up with it, it has to be rescued from default. But when Uncle Sam's fiscal extravagance catches up with him, he just prints more money.

Blood Donors Needed

Would you like to give the precious gift of life to someone in need?

We all can, by donating a pint of blood on Saturday, Jan. 31, during the fourth annual Red Cross blood drawing in St. Peter's social center.

A continuing supply of fresh blood is needed and parish and community blood drives are the greatest source of this supply.

THE PRECIOUS GIFT of life you give is an investment in your family's future blood needs. Your pint of blood will ensure your family, including parents, parents-in-law, grandparents, and grandparents-in-law, wherever they may reside, that any need they might have for blood during the coming year will be fulfilled, be it one pint or 100.

The Red Cross is working hard to meet the heavy demand that modern surgery and medical treatment places upon the blood program. With major heart surgery an everyday occurrence and organ transplants more frequent, tremendous amounts of blood are supplied daily to hospitals throughout the region.

Emergency situations also add to the great volume of blood used. On the average, one unit of blood is needed each year for every 25 people in this country. Despite all the chemical research in this field, there is still no substitute for human blood.

BLOOD MUST BE USED within 21 days after it is drawn. At one time a whole unit of blood was used by only one recipient. Now, with the constant progress of medical research, component therapy makes it possible for one donation to help several patients.

The Red Cross blood center's laboratory can separate the unit of blood into red cells, platelets and a cryoprecipitate for specialized treatment. Remaining plasma is made into important blood medicaines, each with its own special healing qualities.

Career Exploration Seminar Offered

The College of Lake County is once again offering the Personal Development Seminar (PDS) "Career Exploration."

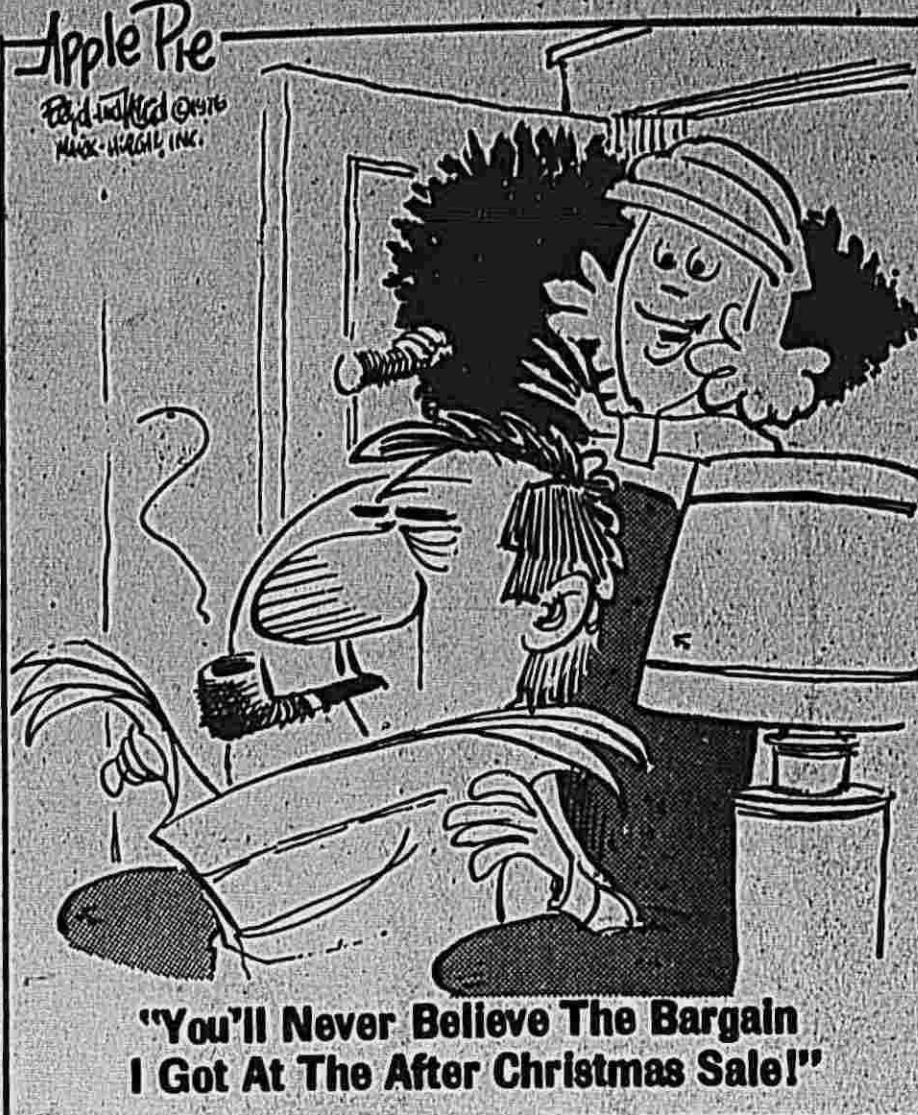

The seminar is designed to investigate both you and your career.

"A person must consider not only potential careers, but also what his or her personal potentialities, interests and desired life-style may be," said counselor Frank Nickels.

For details, consult the 1976 spring semester class schedule or call the counseling center at the college, 223-6601, extension 400 or 407.

The college's spring semester on-campus registration is Jan. 12-15. Classes begin Friday evening, Jan. 16.

can participate as donors. We realize that not everyone can be a donor due to age or medical restrictions, but if each person who is eligible gives that one precious pint, the quota of 180 pints will be reached and all parishioners will then be guaranteed of the availability of blood for their needs and those of their families.

A minimum of 200 volunteer donors are needed to assure fulfillment of the quota.

Donor pledge cards will be distributed at all Saturday evening and Sunday Masses, Jan. 10 and 11.

Mrs. Brad Ipsen or Mrs. Hank Apostol will call to confirm the appointed time for your donation. If you do not receive a donor pledge card, call Mrs. Ipsen at 395-2884 or Mrs. Apostol at 395-1217 to arrange your donor appointment. Baby-sitters will be provided for young children.

How can you help even though you don't qualify as a donor? Many volunteers will be needed to help the program run smoothly. Registered nurses, L.P.N.s, lab technicians, and para-medics are needed as well as inexperienced persons to serve as escorts, assistants. Baby-sitters are urgently needed.

Vistain Joins State Bank; Kinas, Groeninger Promoted

William E. Brook, president of the State Bank of Antioch, has announced, on behalf of the Board of Directors, the addition of George J. Vistain to the Real Estate Mortgage department of the State Bank. In addition, the Board of Directors has recently promoted Paul A. Kinas to Assistant Cashier and William H. Groeninger to Assistant Cashier.

Before joining the Real Estate Mortgage Department of the State Bank, Mr. Vistain, a 20-year Antioch resident, held the position of executive vice president in charge of the Mortgage Department of the Antioch Savings and Loan Association for 13 years.

His finance experience also includes former association with the First National Bank of Chicago and Olympic Savings and Loan Association of Berwyn. A graduate of Morton High School in Cicero, Mr. Vistain furthered his education in the financial field through the Savings and Loan Institute and College of Lake County. He is a member of the Institute of Financial Education and was a charter member of the Antioch Rotary Club.

George and his wife, Caroline, have two sons, Kirk, 25, and Cary, 21.

Mild still, but look out, a cold clout.

How many New Year's resolutions have you kept? ... Jack London born Jan. 12, 1876 ... Full moon Jan. 16 ... Gray whales migrate south off California now ... Average length of days for the week, 9 hours, 23 minutes ... Iron first made from coal in Pa. Jan. 12, 1839 ... Pentagon Building completed Jan. 15, 1943 ... Not he who has little, but he who wishes for more, is poor.

Old Farmer's Riddle: What do elephants have that no other animal has? (Answer below.)

Ask the Old Farmer: I'm a third generation Florida "cracker" and I wonder why some southerners are called crackers? I've never understood the meaning. F.J. Orlando.

Cracker originally described the "poor white trash" of the South, indicating a crook. To "crack a crib," or burgle, is very old English slang.

Home Hint: Tack an end of your tape measure to an empty thread spool. Roll it up and attach a snap fastener to close it... Riddle answer: Baby elephants.

OLD FARMER'S WEATHER FORECASTS

New England: First part of week clearing and colder, with some light snow in mountains; generally sunny and cold latter part.

Greater New York-New Jersey: Turning colder by midweek with light rain and sleet; end of week sunny and seasonably cold.

Middle Atlantic Coastal: Early week variably cloudy with scattered light rain, then becoming colder; light rain changes to snow by week's end.

Piedmont & Southeast Coastal: Partly sunny and mild to begin, then a little light rain; sunny and cool latter part, then rainy and mild again by weekend.

Florida: Except for some light rain at week's end, temperatures are fair and normal in central, above normal in north and below normal in south.

Upstate N.Y.-Toronto & Montreal: Scattered light rain at beginning becomes general by midweek, continues throughout rest of week; light snow in north.

Greater Ohio Valley: Still mild with light to moderate rain to start, then colder; clear and cold latter part, then scattered light rain and snow by weekend.

Deep South: Colder and some light rain throughout region by midweek; rain becomes moderate to heavy in central and south, snow in northwest.

Chicago & Southern Great Lakes: Week begins rainy, heavy in southwest, then sunny and mild; colder in west, light rain in central and east latter part.

Northern Great Lakes: Mostly sunny in west and central, cold in north, some rain in east by midweek; week ends partly sunny with a few flurries.

Central Great Plains: Rain to start, changing to snow in north and central, then clearing and cold in northwest; week ends partly cloudy, seasonable in south and east.

Texas-Oklahoma: Early week some light rain in central and south, warm in north, then colder; latter part rainy in central and south, snowstorm in north.

Rocky Mountain: Snow ending except in central and much colder; very cold with snow end of week.

Southwest Desert: Clearing and cool to start, then rainy in west; partial clearing in west, light rain in east and continuing cool latter part.

Pacific Northwest: Weather alternates between rain, cloudiness and cold temperatures throughout week.

California: Some rain in north and south, heavy snow in mountains, then cloudy; rain, snow in mountains continues.

Suggests Parents Help Children With Reading

Parents can really help their children's progress in school... by setting aside time at home for reading.

That's the advice of Dr. Eugene Paulausky, the new superintendent at Grass Lake School.

"This does two things," Dr. Paulausky said. "One, it focuses attention on the importance of the subject and two, it gives the parents an opportunity to become involved with their child's learning process."

"THIS WORKS best if everyone in the household engages in reading during the scheduled times. Radio can be played to drown out background noises. Television is a different matter. It's nearly impossible to engage in reading activities with the distraction of television," Dr. Paulausky said. What kinds of material should be read? Almost anything which captures the interest of the reader.

"Questions like who, what, when and where should be asked so that the child can concentrate on them while they read. Answering such questions will enhance the person's reading comprehension which simply means understanding what has been read," the educator said.

How much time should be scheduled?

"This should vary depending on the age of the child. Usually 20 minutes is ample for grades K-2. A 30 minute period should be used with children grades 3-5. A longer period, 45 minutes, should be scheduled for 6-8 grade levels. After a while the reading should be varied, that is, different subject matter should be read. This is to be undertaken after the family has experienced several days or a week reading material with high interest," he said.

A windfall of this process is family togetherness. A scheduled reading time provides an opportunity for the whole family to do something as a group. In any event it will help strengthen reading skills which is the main purpose.

"Reading is vital to a person's survival in a complex society such as ours, and in addition necessary for one to be able to adequately manage the demands made upon a person during his or her life experiences," he concluded.

Antioch Drugs Cooperates With Kidney Foundation

The Kidney Foundation of Illinois has announced the selection of Antioch Drugs, 480 Orchard, as a participant in its drug bank program.

The Kidney Foundation's drug bank program serves chronic kidney patients to provide a reduction in the burdensome cost of drugs through a cooperative arrangement between consumer and community pharmacist.

The purposes of the program are 1) to provide high quality pharmaceutical services to kidney patients who must take drugs for prolonged periods, 2) to provide public health education to both patients and consumers concerning kidney disease prevention, and 3) to provide a substantial savings to the chronic kidney patient.

ANTIOCH DRUGS was chosen out of numerous other applicants on the basis of its service to patients, consciousness, concern for public health, and geographic location. Members of the drug bank are patients on chronic maintenance dialysis who must use the artificial kidney machine, transplant recipients who must take anti-rejection drugs in very large quantities to maintain a foreign kidney, and persons affected with other renal impairments.

The large amount of prescription medication taken by these people has prompted the Kidney Foundation to seek community-pharmacy participation on a not-for-profit basis.

If persons would like to apply for membership as either a patient or pharmacy, they can contact the Kidney Foundation of Illinois, 127 North Dearborn, Chicago, Illinois 60602.

Hey, big event coming up on Tuesday, Mar. 2, at St. Peter's social center.

The Northeastern Illinois chapter of Ducks Unlimited will hold its third annual dinner with cocktails at 6 p.m. and the feast at 7:30.

Last year's dinner was an early sellout and Terry Folbrick, area chairman for DU, says:

"Would you believe a bigger and better prize list this year?"

Make reservations early with Tony Starcevic, P.O. Box 369, Antioch.

They probably picked Mar. 2 as the date because it's Jerry Pfarr's birthday.

Hear tell at last year's Ducks Unlimited dinner they had a special drink, called the "Flying Mallard" or something like that, and it knocked a few guys right on their ears.

ELVIS PRESLEY is 40 and getting fat. It's hard to believe, but performing for a New Year's Eve crowd of 60,000 in Detroit Elvis (showing a developing paunch around the middle) ripped his pants and had to change between numbers.

Oh well, Elvis, it happens to the best of us.

Belated "happy birthdays" to Joyce Woods, who celebrates on Jan. 1, and Kathy Haley and Bob Bemis, who had birthdays on Jan. 2.

INCIDENTALLY, Tuesday of this week was the 62nd birthday for Danny Thomas. You know something? I always thought he was likeable, but I never considered him better than average as a comedian. Why was he so successful? Maybe it was St. Jude.

Elvis Presley will be 41 on Thursday. Richard Nixon will be 63 on Friday. What a shame ... we hoped he would be a great President, and for a while it looked as if history would record it that way.

HOME FOR the holidays was the family of Mrs. Ruby Vos, 341 Harden St., and the late Cletus Vos.

Jack and Careen Vos surprised their mother and family by arriving Christmas morning with their entire family.

Shirley and Marvin Toepper from Cass Lake, Minn., were here with their daughter and son-in-law, Rich and Linda Winters. Their children, Ricky and Rebecca, are Grandma Vos' great grandchildren.

Other members of the family came from Union Grove, Wis.

Sunday, Dec. 28, was a busy day. Babies Emily Johnson and Rebecca Winters were baptized at St. Peter's church.

IN THE DAYS BEFORE GUN-POWDER WAS INVENTED, CATAPULTS (CALLED "ONAGERS") COULD TOSS A PROJECTILE WEIGHING 60 LBS. A DISTANCE OF 500 YARDS!

A real Roman spring! Before Julius Caesar reformed the Roman calendar, the summer months were arriving in the spring!

ABC's of Travel

Domestic and International

By BARB CORBIN

Many of us make New Year's resolutions and following are some for all of our travelers.

TRAVELER'S TEN COMMANDMENTS

1. Thou shalt not expect to find things as thou hast them at home, for thou hast left thy home to find things different.

2. Thou shalt not take anything too seriously, for a carefree mind is the beginning of a vacation.

3. Thou shalt not let the other tourist get on thy nerves, for thou art paying out good money to have a good time.

4. Remember thy passport so that thou knowest where it is at all times, for a man without a passport is a man without a country.

5. Blessed is the person who can make change in any language, for lo, he shall not be cheated.

6. Blessed is the person who can say "thank you" in any language, and it shall be worth more to him than tips.

7. Thou shalt not worry. He that worrieth hath no pleasure, and few things are ever fatal.

8. Thou shalt not judge the people of a country by one person with whom thou hast had trouble.

9. Thou shalt when in Rome do somewhat as the Romans do; if in difficulty, thou shalt use thy American common sense and friendliness.

10. Remember thou are a guest in every land and he that treateth his host with respect shall be treated as an honored guest.

HAPPY NEW YEAR TO ONE AND ALL,

BARB CORBIN

THE SOWER

A little girl asked a man, "Will you please pick that flower for me?" He handed it to her, and after smelling it, she said, "Now put it back."

As the flower cannot be returned to the stem, neither can a spoken word be returned to the mouth. Once the word leaves the mouth, it can never be recalled. Well should we pray, "Let the words of my mouth be acceptable in Thy sight, Oh Lord"—Psalm 19:14.

Everything that is done in the world, whether it be good or bad, is done by the words of our mouths. If our words are pleasing to God, they will be profitable to man.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) - Work on alleviating ill feelings you may be harboring towards certain individuals. By overcoming misunderstandings your chances of seeing things more objectively are greater.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) - A change from the usual pace can provide a fresh new outlook on things. A tendency to philosophize however, can interfere with your more conservative manner.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21) - Take care of joint money concerns and give consideration to tax matters or other partnership affairs which may require your attention.

CANCER (June 22-July 21) - A great deal of compromising is called for as conflicting ideas tend to hamper progress. You may have to readjust your schedule somewhat.

LEO (July 22-August 21) - This can be an ideal time to embark on a better diet and athletic program. Abilities are keener when energies are directed in a constructive outlet.

VIRGO (August 22-September 22) - New hobbies can offer rewarding benefits. As an added interest in children's affairs provides a chance to prove your leadership abilities.

LIBRA (September 23-October 22) - Building for future security offers more rewards now so keep a steady pace without interruptions. Family squabbles should be dismissed as trivia, take care of serious matters.

SCORPIO (October 23-November 21) - Being able to promote inspirational ideas, expanding educational interests should be foremost in your activities now. A close relative has some good advice, take it.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22-December 20) - Handle documents and important papers with care as you are more prone to misplace things now. Keeping to a rigid schedule this week aids in keeping activities orderly.

CAPRICORN (December 21-January 20) - Be initiative, keep abreast of things so you don't miss out on new opportunity. Renewed interests in a neglected project may catch your eye.

AQUARIUS (January 21-February 19) - Patience is tested as plans seem more restricted. Don't be too anxious; if the pace is slower than usual, try to use the extra time accordingly.

PISCES (February 20-March 20) - Don't begin a long-term project; stars favor ventures which can be completed in little time. Your original and inventive ideas should be put to good use.

ADLAI STEVENSON - ARISTOCRAT AS GOVERNOR

Adlai Stevenson's obituary filled a full page in the New York Times beneath an eight-column title labeling him "An Urbane, Witty, Articulate Politician, and Diplomat." Stevenson once explained to an aspiring biographer: "I wasn't born in a log cabin. I didn't work my way through school nor did I rise from rags to riches, and there's no use trying to pretend I did. I am not a Willkie, and I don't claim to be a simple, barefoot LaSalle Street lawyer."

While his family resided in Bloomington, Stevenson's interests by birth, training, and desire extended well beyond the boundaries of the state of Illinois. Born in 1900, he was the grandson of a vice-president of the United States with the same name. After graduating from Princeton, he became a lawyer and for a time editor publisher of the family-owned Bloomington Daily Pantagraph. In 1941 he was selected as special assistant to Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, and for the following seven years was deeply and variously involved in diplomacy and world government. His governorship provided a local interlude in a national and an international career.

Thoroughly defeated by Dwight Eisenhower in 1952 and again in 1956, he became a foreign policies adviser to John F. Kennedy and a Kennedy-appointed US ambassador to the United Nations with cabinet status until his death in 1965.

"BERNIE'S HAPPY GAS"

SHATTERS 40 YR. GAS SALES RECORD

Antioch (Special)

December "Happy Gas" sales easily exceeded total gas sales for any one month during the preceding 40 plus years of petroleum sales at the same location.

Mr. Gunty has been a Standard Oil Dealer since purchasing the corner 3½ years ago but started from the bottom with "Happy Gas" only 3 months ago on Oct. 1st., 1975. "Little Eddie" feels the record is all the more to be proud of when you realize the winter months are the slowest months for gas sales.

Mr. Gunty again expressed his pleasure at being a small but significant part of Antioch and considers his corner a prime example of "cooperation" between town officials and owner. The results can only be beneficial to both sides. He also feels his corner is not only one of the finest in Antioch but the most diversified.

Our Sincerest Thanks

To our customers for making this possible and who again have shown us what we have always believed:

People do appreciate it when you say "Sir or Ma'am."

People do appreciate it when you check under their hoods.

People do appreciate a "smile" when you clean their windows.

People do appreciate a clean corner, station and rest rooms.

And most of all-----

People love to purchase top quality products and know they are saving a lot of money at the same time. May we continue to build on your confidence.

First National Bank Celebrates 50th Year

Here are the messages of the bank's first president and its current president

1926

Letter of Address To Stockholders
of the First National Bank of Antioch

By C.K. ANDERSON
January 9th, 1926
To the Stockholders
of the First National Bank of Antioch:
Greetings:

When your Directors elected me your first President, they did so against my wish, as I felt that they should have chosen someone who had inside knowledge of banking. My experience has been along the line of merchandising and manufacturing and all the banking experience that I have had has been through dealings with banks. However, as I have accepted the office, I shall do my utmost to make our bank a success. Having been successful in my various undertakings in the past, I trust that this one also may meet with the same results.

It is also my hope that every stockholder, director, officer and employee will cooperate toward this end. We can do this by being trustworthy and treating those who deal with us courteously and honestly. I was brought up on a farm near a town about the size of Antioch and I know that farmers and merchants who are entitled to credit should be taken care of. I have followed the Golden Rule in all my dealings, and I would like to see our bank follow the same principle, giving good service and a square deal in every instance.

I want to assure the citizens of Antioch that every precaution will be taken to safeguard their deposits, and as long as I am an officer this policy will be carried out. Stockholders will not be allowed to make use of the bank to further any personal deals that cannot stand the light of honest business principles. Every loan will be given careful consideration by the Loan Committee before it is made.

The Federal Reserve System is a wonderful institution for the national banks. It has proven its usefulness many times. There have been numerous small bank failures throughout the country, but many of them have failed because they could not or did not deal through the Federal Reserve System. Failures were largely the result of errors or speculation.

The foreign situation is gradually improving, and although this may not help the people of Antioch directly, it will do so indirectly, both in a business way and in regard to personal activity.

Our national political conditions are good, and hence the business outlook for the coming year is better than it was for the past year. In a local way, our lake and farm properties are being sold, and this means improvement and work for different kinds of labor.

There seems to be a prevailing tendency towards spending more money for enjoyment than was thought necessary in years gone by, and to a certain extent the country is

Of Antioch

By L.M. WOODS
January 9, 1976

To the Stockholders
of The First National Bank of
Antioch:
Greetings:

Fifty years ago today an outstanding business man accepted the position of President of a newly organized bank. This man was C.K. Anderson and the bank was The First National Bank of Antioch. Today I would like to express my feelings to you as stockholders, as he did fifty years ago. Unlike Mr. Anderson I was elected by your Board of Directors with my full consent and approval. Most of my working years have been spent in the banking business and not in other fields. However, my promises to you as stockholders are the same as Mr. Anderson's were; to make our bank a success. Since joining the bank in late 1966, we have grown from $6,900,000 in assets to $27,000,000 in assets. I think that we have come a long way in ten years. Our new building, now three years old, is great and with room for continued growth. We are now ready to continue the successful venture that was started fifty years ago.

As Mr. Anderson so aptly said, "it is really up to every stockholder, director, officer, and employee to cooperate to make the end results, of a larger, more profitable institution to service both the community and the area we serve." I feel that we have continued Mr. Anderson's approach to treat those who deal with us courteously and honestly and fairly. I also know that we strive for the same goals of giving good service and a square deal in each and every case.

I too, would like to assure the citizens of Antioch and the area we serve that every precaution will be taken to safeguard their deposits as long as I am an officer of the bank. We have Mr. Anderson's daughter, Mrs. Lorraine Schroeder, on our Board of Directors as well as two grandsons, Charles and Richard Schroeder, who are equally concerned about the bank. Our policies have been conservative, however, we feel that this is the way a bank should operate.

As was true in 1926 it is true today that stockholders, directors, or officers do not make use of the bank in any way for personal gain. All their banking relationships must meet requirements that are the same or stricter than those of other customers. In fact it is more difficult for these people to get money today than in 1926 because new laws and regulations have been enacted and are enforced to insure the bank is run on a sound basis and not for the benefit of only these few people.

Mr. Anderson touched on the Federal Reserve System and some bank failures. This is still true today. The Fed has proven to be a valuable organization, yet we still have bank failures caused mainly because of dishonesty of the people running the bank. A couple of big banks failed in 1974-75 which was the direct result of self dealing. Any business that is poorly run can expect to get into trouble whether it be a bank, a retail merchant, a filling station, or any other business.

It is really kind of humorous that in 50 years things have not really changed too much. Mr. Anderson mentioned foreign involvement. Today, it is very important, if not essential, to our economy that we deal with other nations. The balance of payments, grain sales to Russia, possible trade agreements with Cuba, China, and others all have an effect now as they did then.

I am not as sure about the political conditions of our country now as Mr. Anderson was at that time. We have too much bureaucracy, too much spending and not enough income, except from the taxation of a small number of citizens. I feel that to survive another fifty years, we must make some drastic steps in the area of curbing big businesses, and get back to what the U.S.A. was built on, the small businessman and the work ethic. The free enterprise system, in other words, without all the government control, red tape and paperwork. During these last 50 years a large number of laws have been enacted but in many cases haste has caused legislators to act without anticipating the end result of their actions.

Our local scene looks better today than it did 50 years ago. Lake County will no doubt be the fastest growing county in Illinois during the next few years. Some concerned citizens are starting to do something about the pollution of the lakes and in time other conservation concerned citizens will rebuild some of the waste we have caused during the last genera-

Antioch vs. Libertyville Here Saturday

Play at Woodstock Friday Night

Antioch High's basketball team plays two games this weekend and would like to boost its record from 7-3 to 9-3.

But it won't be easy.

Coach Roger Andrews' Sequoits will be favored to win at Woodstock Friday night, but they will be the underdogs when they host Libertyville Saturday night.

Both of the varsity contests will begin at 8 p.m.

Antioch is 3-0 in the conference and Woodstock is 2-1. Woodstock won't be a pushover. That club whipped Cary-Grove 54-37 in its last conference assignment. But Antioch was even more impressive on that night, Dec. 19, running away from Warren 71-49.

So Friday night the conference race resumes at Woodstock, with gusto.

ANTIOCH FANS will be treated to an interesting show Saturday night at 8 o'clock when a strong Libertyville team plays here. Coach Andrews said he is sure Libertyville will be the favorite, so his Sequoits will be shooting for an upset in this non-conference clash of talented teams.

Libertyville is "real tough," Andrews said, and recently knocked off Zion.

Andrews said his Sequoits played one of their better games of the season last Friday when they triumphed at Mundelein, 71-56.

"We had balanced scoring, excellent rebounding and good defense," the coach said. "We did have some trouble with the press; but our team recovered very well."

Besides George Ferguson's 25 rebounds and Scott Kimball's 24 points, Andrews praised Mitch Witt and Bob Dubek for hitting 14 points a piece and "playing good floor games."

"IT LOOKS like we're ready for the conference chase," the coach said. "I am real proud of this team. It is playing some fine basketball and will continue to improve."

During the holidays the Sequoits beat Chicago Fenger in the Rockford Classic, then were eliminated by Rockford Guilford which eventually finished third in the 16-team tournament.

SCOTT KIMBALL scored 22, 18 and 24 points in the Sequoits' last three games.

"I felt the team played well and gave a very good account of themselves and their community," said Coach Andrews. "Scott Kimball played very well and several college scouts were impressed with his ability. The tournament was very strong this year with many big men - there were eight players 6-foot-8 or larger, with the tournament's most valuable player, Lester Thompson, at 7 feet."

Rockford Auburn won the tournament with Rockford Harlem second. Kimball was honored by being selected to the second all-tournament team.

Sequoits Sparkle At Mundelein

By MIKE WITT

There were four stories, three of which were enjoyable to watch, that made up Antioch's 71-56 victory at Mundelein last Friday.

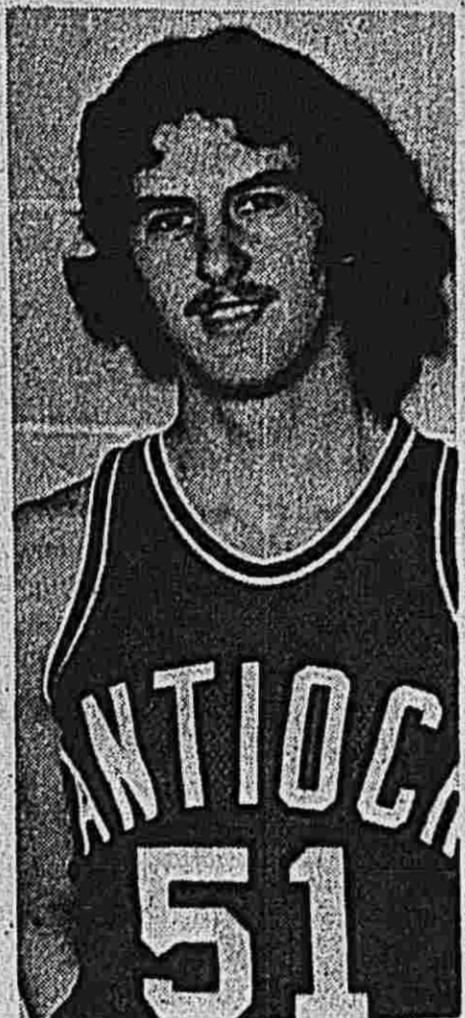

First, there was the offense of Antioch. It started out running and jumped to an 18-4 lead and a 20-11 first quarter advantage.

It was an offense that later slowed up and worked like a well-tuned machine that shredded up the Mustangs' zone defense for easy lay-ins and putting three players in double figures, and the other two just missing the double column.

IT GAVE Antioch a commanding 51-34 lead with two minutes left in the third quarter.

Then there was the team defensive effort to handle the hot-shot junior guard named Greg Boyle. They "held" him to 20 points. Twenty points may seem like a lot, but not in this case. First, it's below his average, and secondly, it took him nearly 30 shots to achieve this figure. The effort was led by Jon Bodin, and later by Tommy Sedar. They made him earn every point he scored and it was evident all this pressure took a physical and mental toll on Boyle.

Overall, Antioch made Mundelein shoot just 37 percent

GEORGE FERGUSON pulled down an amazing total of 25 rebounds in Antioch's win over Mundelein last Friday.

REBOUNDING - George Ferguson. The two terms went hand in hand on this night as Fergie pulled down 25 rebounds on the two ends of the court - just two short of the school record.

He nearly out-rebounded the team of Mundelein, which had 26 rebounds. Rest of the team contributed to give Antioch a 55-26 rebounding monopoly. Fergie scored only nine points, but he was worth at least 30. He helped keep Mundelein's offense a one-shot affair, and when he boards like this, Antioch will be in almost any game.

Up to this point, things look pretty good. But this wasn't the whole story.

Mundelein, being down by 17 points, decided to give the Sequoits a disease they always react badly to - pressure.

Using a full-court press, Mundelein scored four straight buckets and trailed after three quarters 53-42.

ANTIOCH HAD time to settle down, and just barely did. The Sequoits showed the deadly symptoms of the virus called pressure and turned the ball over numerous times.

The Mustangs' ran their streak to seven baskets and, with about five minutes remaining, trailed 53-50.

But Antioch's medicine, which has been strong all season, came through again. It's called free throw shooting. The Sequoits connected in the last minutes of the game on nine of 10 gifters, plus a tip-in on the only one they missed, and it pulled them off to a 71-56 win.

Kimball put on a good show and scored 24 points, and Mitch Witt and Bob Dubek each scored 14 points.

Free Throws Beat Chicago Fenger

By MIKE WITT

The Antioch Sequoits failed in their bid to become the first team to advance to the semifinals three years in a row in the Rockford Holiday Classic Tournament.

After an exciting comeback overtime win over Chicago Fenger 66-63, they were eliminated from the tournament by the eventual third place finishers, Rockford Guilford, 72-57.

Fenger-Antioch

The players from Fenger think of themselves as "bad" - and that's exactly the way Antioch made them look in the last seven of regulation play - BAD.

Trailing 58-43 at this seven minute point, Antioch got its offense together (which had been so effective in the first quarter) and outscored them 18-3.

THE COMEBACK looked pretty hopeless though, because with 28 seconds left, they still trailed by five. But two free throws by Scott Kimball and a bucket by Jon Bodin left them down by two points with five seconds and the ball.

Fenger then committed a stupid foul and George Ferguson was at the line with two seconds remaining.

George made the comeback worth the effort as he put in both shots and sent the game into overtime.

Antioch never trailed throughout the overtime, and free throw shooting by Bob Dubek and Mitch Witt accounted for all of Antioch's scoring.

ONCE AGAIN the story for the Sequoits was on the line. They were beaten on field goals 28-17, but put in 32 of 49 free throws. Fenger lost six ball players who fouled out and

Varsity Wrestlers Add to Their Laurels

Antioch High's varsity wrestlers competed in the Glenbrook South tournament and two dual meets during the holidays.

The Sequoits placed fifth in the 16-team Glenbrook meet, just missing third place by 1½ points.

ON JAN. 3 they traveled to Irving Crown, where they beat Hoffman Estates 37-12 but lost to Glenbard South.

The Sequoits now have a 5-3 record in dual meets. The win over Hoffman Estates was

100th Win for Coach DeRousse

Coach Ted DeRousse's 100th dual meet victory at Antioch. In his eight years as varsity coach, DeRousse has compiled 100 wins against only 25 losses and four ties.

TWO ANTIOCH wrestlers won tournament championships at Glenbrook - John Davis at 119 pounds and Greg Nordstrom at 126 for the second straight year.

Tom Dye lost a close match in the 98-pound title bout and finished second.

Marvin Gibson was third at 105 pounds, John Kakacek fifth at 132 and Bob Ducato sixth in the heavyweight class.

In consolation divisions, Dick Kessler won at 185 pounds and Dave Bogaerts at 155.

Geof Nordstrom placed second at 145 in a consolation bracket, while Rich Gorski was second at 165.

The Sequoits scored in 10 weight classes and were impressive even though they were the smallest school in the 16-team meet.

In the duels against Hoffman Estates and Glenbard South, double winners for Antioch were Bob Gossman at 105 pounds, Gibson at 112, Robine Aerne at 119 (he was celebrating his birthday), Nordstrom at 132 and Kakacek at 138.

Antioch Sophs Win Tourney

The Antioch High School sophomore basketball team won the Zion Invitational tournament by defeating Niles North, North Chicago and Wheeling.

It was Antioch's first championship since entering the tournament four years ago.

Previous Antioch teams had taken 2nd and 3rd places.

Antioch defeated Niles North 66 to 42. It was one of the soph's best efforts of the season with 14 players entering the game and 10 contributing to the score. Tracy Sodman led with 15 points and 10 rebounds, followed by Bill Dubek with 12 points and Tim Huebner with 11.

The sophs then matched up with the tournament favorite, North Chicago, and after a tough battle came up with a 52 to 48 win. Tom Huebner led Antioch with 15 points, followed by Dubek and Tim Huebner with 12 each.

In the final game the sophs outlasted a fine Wheeling team

Antioch took advantage of all these free throw opportunities.

Antioch held a 25-20 rebounding advantage, and finally had a decent floor game as it turned the ball over only 13 times.

Kimball scored 22 points to lead all scorers and Witt and Bodin hit for 18 and 11.

Guilford-Antioch

You can't beat a good team if you turn the ball over constantly. Guilford has a good team and Antioch turned the ball over 30 times, and it all added up to a 72-57 defeat.

Antioch trailed at the half 36-32, and had its chance in the second half.

Guilford was getting in foul trouble, and starting to cool off from the field, but Antioch managed to turn the ball over 12 times in the third quarter, and give Guilford a 52-44 lead.

The last stanza was all Guilford as it hit on four straight buckets, and put the game out of reach with this 16 point advantage.

THE SEQUOITS hit 54 percent of their shots, and Guilford only 42 percent. But the Vikings also got away with 22 more shots attempted.

Antioch again was tough from the line as it canned 11 of 16 gifters but, unfortunately, Guilford went one better and made 16 of 20.

Ferguson hit for 20 points and Kimball for 18, but the next highest point total for Antioch was four, whereas Guilford had four players alone in double figures.

Antioch's ability to turn over the ball was at its best in this game, and showed that maybe some changes are needed to correct the problem that has been a sore spot all season.

tions. We will be getting more business, industry and housing without question.

In Mr. Anderson's time leisure time and the spending associated with it were nothing compared to the present day. Labor unions are pushing for four-day work weeks and if this occurs this spending will increase dramatically.

Mr. Anderson alluded to the rise in farm and milk prices. If he were here today, he would be shocked to see what has occurred during the last two years. These price increases, to farmers, has not really helped our area as it would have 50 years ago since we are not the rural farm area we were then.

In closing, I would like to say that I am proud to be connected with a bank with such a great heritage and that has done so much for the Antioch area.

Let us then continue on with Mr. Anderson's challenge of 1926 to continue to make the First National Bank of Antioch a sound bank of which everyone may have reason to be proud.

Sincerely,

L.M. WOODS

Jayvee Wrestlers Rally

Antioch High's junior varsity wrestlers had a busy schedule during the holidays.

They began with a thrilling 29-27 come-from-behind win over their first-place rival in the conference, Warren's Blue Devils.

Wins by Tom Jennerich and Jeff Gross gave Antioch's Jayvees an early 8-0 lead but Warren stormed back with four straight wins, including three pins. Antioch then trailed 21-8.

Keith Kaht, Gene Lehn and Glen Learmont won decisions for Antioch, then Rick Dauck capped the rally with a pin to put his team ahead to stay. The Jayvees are now 3-0-1 in the conference and 5-0-1 overall.

THE SOPHOMORES on the Jayvee team wrestled in the rugged Antioch Invitational tournament. Jeff Gross and Del Gorski won individual championships while Brian Dyer and Rich Packert battled through wrestle-backs to take third-place ribbons. Bill Hudson and Gene Lehn nailed down fourth place honors.

The sophos placed sixth as a team with Aurora West winning the tournament.

Last Saturday the Jayvee sophomores beat Glenbard South 36-26 and lost to Crown 42-16. Leading the Sequoits was Keith Olsen with two first-period pins, Brian Dyer with a major decision and a pin, and Del Gorski with a major decision and a regular decision.

Women of The Moose

Fifty co-workers welcomed new candidates Virginia Booth, Nora Fisher, Josephine Silke, Denna Stein and Sue Hallwas at the December chapter night meeting.

A chapter pin was presented to Laura Lampeith, by senior regent Stephie Polson. Harriet Grew and Louise Steinberg won prizes for special games played, and Florence Ahrens won "share the pot."

The December business was attended by 32 co-workers who shared in the joy of Irna Toft, when she was awarded the Paul B. Schmitz Mooseheart high school honorary diploma.

Birthday marchers for the month were Jerry Poulson, Judy Cook, Irna Toft, Lillian Sorensen, and Lydia Pederson. Dorothy Ottenstroer won "share the pot," and Barbara Higgins won the attendance drawing which had accumulated over the past months.

A short course in college economics

In just eight years, experts predict the average cost of sending today's 10-year-old to a four-year state university will exceed $30,000.

And at an annual inflation rate of 7%, costs can double in 10 years.

How do you make sure the money's ready when your child's ready for college? Life insurance from Country Life can help.

Call your Country Companies agent. He knows the ways life insurance can help you get through college economics.

ly predicting that Antioch would defeat Chicago Fenger by three points in the Rockford Classic tournament.

His prize is $15 savings account at the First National Bank.

Second prize, a $10 gift certificate at Swan's Liquors, goes to Candy Bailey of 688 Hillside, who predicted Antioch would defeat Fenger by four points.

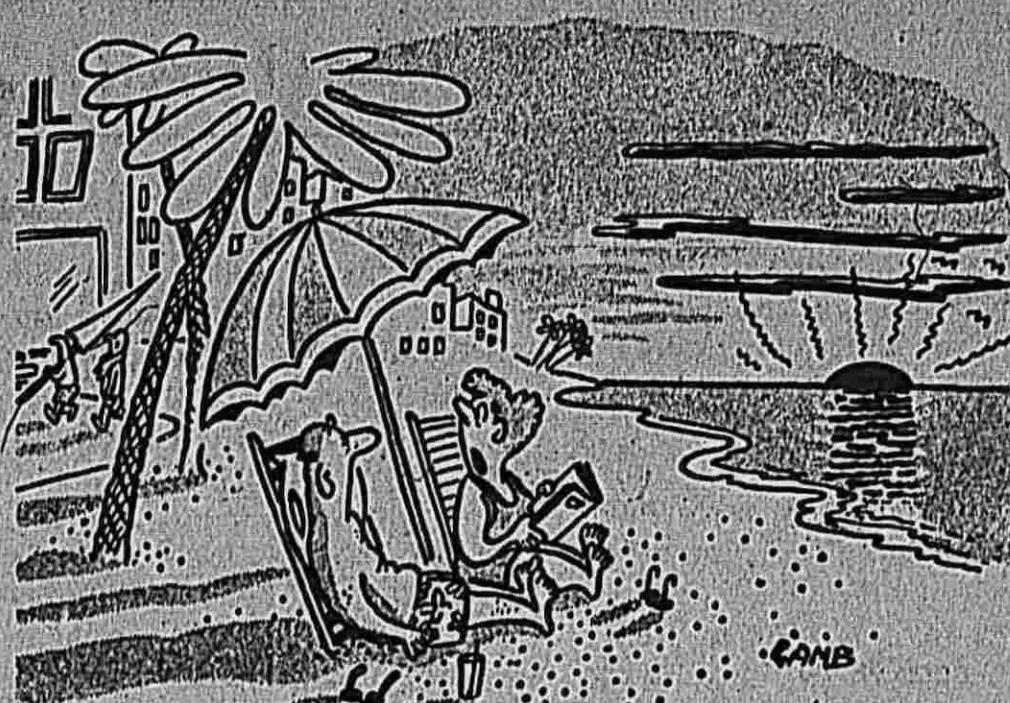

Jean DeBoer also said four points, but Candy came closest in predicting where Antioch would finish in the 16-team tournament.

Jean will receive third prize, a $5 gift certificate at The Vault restaurant, where the food is always great.

Kathy Stagg came close, predicting Antioch would beat Fenger by five points.

ANOTHER basketball contest appears in today's issue. Don't neglect to enter before 5 p.m. Friday. First prize is $15 cash from Bob's Septic Service and Cements Co. There also are $10 and $5 prizes. See page 17, quick!
